

Burnich Frame and Moulding

Missoula, Montana

TPM Member Since May 2005

Burnich Frame and Moulding, Inc. (Burnich) has been a member of TPM for twelve years. Burnich was founded by Mickey Burnich in about 1980 as a wholesale supply house for picture framers throughout Montana and Idaho. In those early days Burnich milled some of their own moulding but mostly purchased mouldings from others and uniquely finished this moulding for sale to frame shops throughout the area. Burnich was also a distributor of other framing products such as mat board, foam board, glass, and hanging hardware.

Kahlund Enterprises purchased the company in 1995 and has continually made improvements and expanded the product line to include architectural trim for houses, hand rail and stair parts, doors, siding, mantels, and some furniture pieces. They have basically become a custom mill shop and take on projects that their customers are having difficulty matching or just want a one stop shop for all their needs. These items are sometimes pre-finished for immediate installation.

match profiles for renovations and historical remodels. All the craftsmen need is a small sample and they can match it. Burnich had a recent request for a 12 inch wide crown moulding for the Daly Mansion located in Hamilton, Montana. Other projects include renovation of their local court house, the Yellowstone Hotel in Yellowstone Park and many local residences.

The company also handcrafts interior, entry doors, and barn doors. The craftsmen make these doors from any material available and often times mix complimentary wood species together to make a stunning combination.

The distribution area has many picture frame mouldings on sight ready to go.

Burnich still makes solid wood picture frame mouldings which are now sold all over the United States from Massachusetts to California. The company's claim to fame in this market is its rustic and distressed finishes which go well with landscapes and wildlife. Popular products include arts and crafts, barnwood, foils, and shadow boxes. Burnich can provide what is required for any framing project.

Burnich also has a laser department that can provide custom laser work. Perhaps you have a TPM coaster or seen the TPM Membership plaque, they are both examples of the work that Burnich can do!
