Brian and Sara Haberle purchased Orchard Wood Products from Brian's parents, Steve and Lee Ann Haberle, in July 2015 to continue the family-owned wood products operation. Orchard Wood Products has been a successful business for the family and provides jobs for its community. The small company employees 17 hard-working women and men. The Haberle's are proud to produce American made products for American consumers! Over half of its staff has been working with the company for an average of twenty years. All employees are cross-trained, enabling the crew to perform a wider variety of tasks which allows it to broaden its product line, reach out to new customers, and maintain low costs.

Orchard Wood Products has a proactive approach to customer service, and the foresight to re-tool the business in order to meet the changing demands of the marketplace. Recently, an Optimizing Chop Saw with automatic optimizing cross-cut saws, was added to the cutline. The modernization provided a noticeable increase in productivity.
